

TAFT MEETS RAILROAD LEADERS TODAY

Attorney General Has Him
Primed With Figures Concerning Rates

STATEMENT MADE
BY F. A. DELANO

Raise in Rates Discussed by Senators at Washington—
Conference Today

WASHINGTON, June 6.—A conference of President Taft, Presidents Ripley of the Santa Fe, Delano of the Wabash, Felton of the Chicago and Great Western, is scheduled to occur as the stock market closes today. The conference was purposely delayed until the market closed to prevent the miscellaneous circulation of stories that Taft had refused to end the fight against the raise in rates, whether true or not. The three presidents were here early awaiting the conference. Ripley refused to discuss the matter. Delano said he hoped to show that the proposed increase of rates does not differ from the custom of the last fourteen years. He denied that the increase was planned secretly, and said 1500 copies of the new tariff had been circulated among shippers.

Attorney General Wickersham has primed Taft for the interview, giving him figures and facts in the case compiled by the Interstate Commerce Commission and a copy of the charges by western shippers.

The president is to see the railway authorities because the railway authorities want to see him. Their attitude is on all sides one of bitter opposition to what they call the "radical methods" of the attorney general.

A love feast cannot be anticipated at the great conference.

Senators Crane, Brandage, Depew, Curtis and Bourne visited the president today and discussed rates. Depew declared the roads should present their case to the Interstate Commerce Commission. "The roads should not have advanced their rates precipitately when the country was excited over railroad matters," he said.

THINKS FIGHT FOR EXPOSITION IS WON

SACRAMENTO, June 6.—"Line-ups at Washington change over night," said Governor Gillett today, "but the prospects of San Francisco securing the Panama exposition were bright when I left the capital. I think our claims will win out."

The governor visited two weeks at his old home, Sparta, Wis. He is in excellent health.

AMERICAN CARDINAL MAY BE APPOINTED

ROME, June 6.—An American cardinal may be named the next Catholic consistory, according to the Pope's intimation today to Archbishop Moeller of Cincinnati. The archbishop is authority for the report.

WILL TAKE AT LEAST TWO WEEKS TO DECIDE

WASHINGTON, June 6.—At least two weeks will be required for the conference committee to reach a decision on the Senate and House railroad regulation bill, according to Senator Elkins of West Virginia. As Elkins is chairman of the Senate committee on Interstate Commerce, he is qualified to predict the bill's course.

DEMANDS LORIMER'S RESIGNATION NOW

Chicago Newspaper Takes Decisive Stand in Regard to Senator's Position

CHICAGO, June 6.—The Record-Herald today demands the resignation of Senator Lorimer, concerning whose election bribery is charged. The Record-Herald says:

"Illinois is becoming a by-word throughout the country. Senator Lorimer himself has not been accused of bribery, but as the number of self-implicate bribe-takers increases, the people are wondering how many bribe proofs will be necessary to invalidate the election."

SPECIAL CAR TO SAN JOSE

Many Santa Anans Are to Attend Christian Endeavor
Convention July 1 to 5

The State Christian Endeavor convention, which convenes in San Jose July 1-5, 1910, is arousing much interest in Santa Ana. It is a certainty now that the people from here will have a special car attached to the special train that leaves Los Angeles on the night of the 30th of June. The round trip rate on this train is $12.75, with $1 added for fare from Santa Ana to Los Angeles, and $1.25 for berth. Members of Christian Endeavor societies are accorded free entertainment while in San Jose. This will be such a reasonable trip that many are arranging to go.

The tickets permit the delegates to remain in and about San Jose until the last train out on the 14th of July. Miss Lulu Minter is taking orders for tickets and berths on the special. Those who sign up first for berths get choice of location in the car.

Those who are going and have been reported are Misses Lulu Minter, Grace Parker, Hope McPhee, Nellie and Lucy Hill, Minnie Pearson; Messrs A. R. Marshall and Verne Williamson of the First Baptist church; Miss Myrtle Wilson of the Christian church; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Todd and Mrs. Nannie Todd, of the United Presbyterian church; Miss Georgia Smith of the Presbyterian church; Misses Edith Cole and Bertha Whitehead, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Tuttle, Miss Inez Phinney and Victor Kennedy of Tustin; Misses Mabel and Edith Culter, Grace Lentz and Mr. and Mrs. John Miller of El Modena.

At the executive meeting Sunday afternoon it was voted to decorate the car in such a manner as to advertise Orange county, and a very beautiful and unique composition of Miss Culter of El Modena, on the Orange county delegation, was selected as the delegation song, and will be sung to the tune of Joy Bells.

All that is needed to make the enthusiasm of this trip complete is a purpose on the part of this crowd for "Santa Ana, 1911."

MURDER SUSPECTED

MARSHALLTOWN, Iowa, June 6.—James Hardy and his wife and son have been found dead. The circumstances indicate murder. The authorities are investigating.

The Hardy home is at Laurel, near here. The skulls of the three victims were crushed in by a piece of lead pipe. Ray Hardy, the eldest son, aged 21, was arrested on suspicion, and is being held pending an explanation. He declares he knows nothing of the murder. He says he found the bodies when he returned from a neighbor's, and notified the authorities.

Ray says he found his mother's body in the dining room, his father's in the barn, and his brother's in the kitchen. He said all evidently had been dead several hours. Young Hardy had planned to marry Mabel Sterne, a neighbor's daughter, on Wednesday. It is said his parents opposed the marriage.

An Investigation

EXPLOITATION OF ISLANDS, SAYS HE

Philippine Question Forms the Basis of Talk of Representative John A. Martin

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Representative John A. Martin of Colorado promises to involve Attorney General Wickersham in the sale of Philippine sugar lands to the sugar trust. He declared that ever since the acquisition of the Philippines, Taft has governed them in some capacity. According to Martin, Henry P. Taft, the President's brother, and Wickersham, both of the firm of Strong & Cadwallader, handled all the business of the islands. Railroad contracts, harbor improvements and bond issues passed through this firm. He says another feature of the Philippines administration is that Wickersham was asked for an opinion to quiet title in the purchase and to seek for future purchasers. He declared it is evident that the sugar lands question was an incident in the general scheme of Philippine exploitations.

In view of Martin's charges, it is predicted a congressional investigation of Philippine exploitation will follow.

REBEL VICTORIES

Is Thought Another Defeat is Necessary to Make Him
Consider Arbitration

MANAGUA, June 6.—President Madriz today rejected Estrada's proposal that America be asked to settle the Nicaraguan revolution. He indicated that he would continue fighting.

"Estrada has made the same proposal before, and I think its repetition is an evidence of his weakness," said Madriz.

"The stories of recent rebel victories are untrue," he continued.

It is believed here that another rebel victory will be necessary before Madriz will even consider arbitration.

AGAIN PLACES CLAUSE IN IT

Simmons Offers Amendment
Calling for Physical Valuation of Railroads

WASHINGTON, June 6.—While President Taft was conferring with several railroad presidents today, Senator Simmons of North Carolina, offered an amendment to the civil appropriation bill authorizing the Interstate Commerce Commission to make physical valuation of railroad property, authorizing $300,000 for that purpose. The Senate referred the Sundry civil bill to the committee on appropriations. The Senate recently cut from the bill the physical valuation clause. The House has passed the bill with the clause included. Simmons's amendment virtually returns the bill to the shape passed by the House.

PROJECT FOR PROTECTION DISTRICT AT END

Committee Finds Anaheim and Garden Grove Only Willing to Co-operate

LET THINGS WAIT
TILL CHICKS SWIM

Buena Park, Westminster and Fullerton Do Not Fear Overflow, Say They

"Be it resolved, that this committee stand adjourned until we view the flood waters with our own eyes, two feet deep in our own front yards, and the chickens swimming in our back yards." —From the report of the committee appointed to see what could be done about forming a new river protection district above the Newbert district.

If the report of the committee appointed at a mass meeting at Anaheim a short time ago is adopted, the project to form a protection district for the diking of the Santa Ana river from Yorba down to the dikes of the Newbert Protection District is at an end.

That committee has resolved that nothing more be done until the district alleged to be subject to overflow see their danger and are willing to do their share in the protection work. Buena Park, Westminster and Fullerton sections are reported by the committee to be against the organization of a district including their sections. Anaheim and Garden Grove do not feel like taking the entire burden.

These matters are discussed in the report of the committee, which is as follows:

"Your committee appointed to ascertain the attitude of the people toward the forming of a river protection district, have canvassed the territory endangered by overflow waters from the Santa Ana river.

"The people living in the Buena Park district were entirely opposed to such action, stating that they were not afraid of the overflow waters, and claiming that the people living near the river ought to protect its bank.

"The Westminster Improvement Association claimed that the Westminster country would be in no way harmed by any overflow waters and therefore was not in favor of being included in any river protection district.

"The people living north of the sand wash between Anaheim and Fullerton claimed to be high and dry and so were not interested in any such action, therefore Fullerton and vicinity did not care to have any part in caring for the truant river.

"In spite of the fact that these several places consider themselves free from any possible danger, a good and efficient engineer has reported them all to be subject to flood water. The action of these places leaves Anaheim and Garden Grove to care for this great problem which is county-wide in its effects, and these two sections are scarcely able to shoulder the burden.

"Wherefore, in view of the above facts, be it resolved, that the formation of a river protection district be laid on the table until those subject to overflow waters are ready and willing to put their shoulders to the wheel and carry this proposed project to a successful issue.

"And further be it resolved, that this committee stand adjourned until we view the flood waters with our own eyes, two feet deep in our own front yards, and the chickens swimming in our back yards.

"Respectfully Submitted,
"THE COMMITTEE."

SEA TROUT IN NEWPORT BAY

Some Catches Made Last Week—Halibut, Bass and Croakers From Wharf

Some fine sea trout have been caught in the bay the past week, Jack Bergeron catching fifteen in one evening near Port Orange, and John King, J. A. Ricker and W. A. Cornelius catching smaller numbers of these gamey fish. The sea trout are in reality young white sea bass and are gamey fighters. Those caught in the bay weigh from one to five pounds. Sharks are also numerous in the bay and we saw one hooked that must have measured seven feet in length, but it was too strong for the hook and made its escape. Halibut have been the best fish caught from the S. P. wharf the past week, with a few fine bass and Japanese croakers. A big crowd fished all along the surf on Decoration Day, but there was such a heavy upshore current that but few fish were caught until the evening, when some fine surf were taken from the Thirty-sixth street wharf and at Balboa. Yellowtail continues to be scarce and the only one caught the past week from the wharf was brought to gaff last Sunday.

LOCALS WON 6 TO 3 SCORE

Santa Ana and Redondo Still Lead in Race for Trolley League Pennant

(By Sunny Jim) Santa Ana yesterday defeated Long Beach by the score of 6 to 3. The game was an interesting one. Both pitchers were hit for the same number of bingles. Tompkins was steadier than Myers and kept his hits well scattered. The locals played the best fielding game that they have put up this season and were able to hit the ball when there was a run in sight. Dodson, the new infielder, played short in the same fashion that he covered the first sack during the absence of Cline, but the big fellow was back in the game again and accepted fifteen chances without an error. Teck and Jensen started with the bat, each getting two hits, the former scoring half of the local's runs and being credited with two stolen bases. Redondo won from the McCormicks thus leaving the pennant still tied up between Santa Ana and the fishermen. Next Sunday the locals will play Redondo at the Beach resort.

TESTED AND PROVEN There is a Heap of Solace in Being Able to Depend Upon a Well-earned Reputation —For months Santa Ana readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. Not another remedy ever produced such convincing proofs of merit. William Thursby, 417 East Walnut street, Santa Ana, Cal., says: "Off and on for years I was bothered by my back and kidneys. To stoop or walk a little distance made the dull, heavy ache in my back more severe and at night my rest was badly broken. Further evidence of fault with my kidneys was shown by a heavy sediment in the secretions from these organs. Reading about Doan's Kidney Pills I got a box and soon after I commenced their use, I noticed an improvement. My back gradually grew strong and free from pain and the difficulty with the kidney secretions was corrected. Doan's Kidney Pills are worthy of endorsement." (Statement given March 8, 1907.)

Work That Tells

On August 16, 1909, Mr. Thursby was interviewed and he said: "I have not changed my opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills since I recommended them over two years ago. The cure they effected has been permanent and I have had no further occasion to use a kidney medicine." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. RUTHERFORD FOR JUSTICE Democrats Hear Announcement That He is in Race for Township Office It was announced at the Democratic conference held at the city hall Saturday afternoon that S. T. Rutherford would be a candidate for justice of the peace from Santa Ana township. Rutherford is an old resident of this section. He will have as his opponent the winner of the Smithwick-Seymour-Cox fight for the Republican nomination. The three Republicans who are entered in the race entered early. The conference Saturday failed to bring out candidates for assembly and supervisor from the first district. Efforts along that line, however, are not ended. New committees were appointed to see what can be done about getting men into these two races. Victor Montgomery, J. A. Willson and W. L. Duggan were appointed to look up a man to run for assemblyman and M. Nisson, W. F. Heathman and W. W. Henry to look up a candidate in the first district. Democrats from the Orange supervisorial section stated that they had a candidate in mind, and that they believed he would make the race. They said he was a good man, but that the man might not be hampered in making a decision the Democrats decided not to make public the name of the prospective candidate. His name was not mentioned at the conference. The conference Saturday selected Dr. H. W. Head as chairman and C. D. Overshiner as secretary. —The Halladay au. on page 2 will interest you.

APRICOT GROWERS WERE UNIT FOR ORGANIZATION

Officers Elected by Directors Chosen by Meeting Saturday Plan For Getting Better Prices Than Last Year

There was not a dissenting voice among the forty men who met at the Chamber of Commerce rooms for the purpose of organizing the Orange County Dried Fruit Association. This will be its official title, since it is not intended that the association shall confine itself to the handling of dried apricots. The articles of incorporation adopted at last Saturday's meeting set forth the general purpose of the organization. Co-operation among the growers may be said to be its key note. Like the walnut, orange, lemon and bean growers, and others, the apricot growers feel that "in union there is strength." We must all hang together or we shall all be hung separately.

The reason for the formation of the association came from the well recognized fact that the dried fruit producers have not been getting a just reward for their labor. The manipulation of the market, and ignorance of crop and market conditions on the part of the growers, have heretofore almost invariably brought it about that growers accepted the low and unremunerative prices offered them for their fruit. The association expects to change this state of affairs, as, for instance, the walnut growers have done.

The directors remained after the meeting to organize, and Judge A. H. Stutsman was elected president, Wm. Crawford, vice president, and A. C. Tiede, secretary. A committee was appointed to draft by-laws to be submitted to the next meeting of the apricot growers. This will be called as soon as the incorporation papers are returned from Sacramento.

The directors believe that it is best to make an easy and inexpensive start, and they do not intend to recommend the building or leasing of a warehouse this year. The plan of working this year will be essentially the same that proved so successful last year through the loose organization formed by some twenty or more growers. They pledged themselves at a meeting not to sell their fruit for less than 8 cents a pound. In a few days the price went to 8 cents and those who wished to do so sold then. Others who thought the price might reach 9 cents held their fruit, and a few weeks later obtained their price. A few others held for 10 cents and got it. It is reported that for one single day the price reached 11 cents.

The sentiment seems to be very strong and fully justified by crop and market conditions, that the minimum price shall be set at 12 cents a pound. Some of the growers talk of holding for 15 cents.

Since the time did not permit of the presentation of the crop and market report prepared by one of the directors, the same will appear in the columns of the Register, and it is hoped will be widely copied and published by the papers in the county and the state for the benefit of growers.

so many times that it is a wonder they have the courage to stay in the fighting game. So many have been "wounded and slain" that Nicaragua, according to their reports, must be one vast battlefield of wounded and dying.

Heretofore the campaign has been conducted in some such fashion as this. Dr. Salvador Castriello, flashing several sheets of telegraph paper, invades the State Department with the momentous news that General Mena, commanding the army of advance, has met the Madriz army and routed it completely, opening the way to Managua, the Nicaraguan capital. Numbers have been slain and those who have not have deserted with glad cries of joy and run over to the insurgent side to fight against the tyrant in whose army they have been forced to serve. It seems that it will only be a day or two before Managua is taken and Madriz is ousted from the presidential mansion.

Scarcely have Dr. Castriello's footsteps died away when Don Luis Corea appears on the scene. He is smiling triumphantly. The revolutionists have been demoralized, their army has been shattered. So many of them have been killed that it is impossible to count them. Madriz is merely waiting to march on Bluefields and sweep the revolutionists into the Atlantic—if it does not succeed in eluding capture by hiding in a fruit boat. If Mr. Knox will kindly recognize Dr. Madriz as president of Nicaragua he will save all this muss and bloodshed and do the revolutionists a real favor. They are only boys, anyway, and they should be back in school learning their lessons instead of being forced to bolster up the pretenses of a mountebank of a revolutionist.

A day or so later Consul Moffat at Bluefields, or Consul Olivares at Managua will probably send in a brief dispatch saying that there was a mixup between a party of revolutionists and several of Madriz's soldiers. One man was severely hurt by being hit over the head with a bottle.

And this is not all these two active representatives of unrecognized but aspiring governments of the same unfortunate country have to do. While in the midst of a most arduous campaign they are like as not to be rudely interrupted by a message from New Orleans saying that the other side is preparing to send down a ship loaded with ammunition and American soldiers of fortune and for heaven's sake to stop it. Therefore, either Dr. Castriello or Don Luis, as the case may be, hurries to New Orleans and clamors to the district attorney to stop this open violation of the neutrality laws of the United States. The revolutionists did not succeed in getting away with their expedition. The Madriz people were more successful. They managed to get the Venus out of New Orleans.

Despite all the horrible warring that seems to be going on the report that a batch of American soldiers of fortune—they are mostly tramps in reality—are to sail for the scenes of hostility seems to create more fear than a whole native army. It has been openly charged by the generals that the Americans, once in the conflict, do not observe the South American etiquette of fighting at all. In one case a general—perhaps a generalissimo—hoisted a flag of truce to lodge a protest with the enemy that some Americans were killing his men. In another case an entire army balked at going into action until it could be exactly determined in what position three Americans, who happened to be in the ranks of the opposing army, were. After much delay the information was secured, whereat the army dashed gallantly to the attack at right angles from the Americans.

By actual analysis of a Nicaraguan army, in the present hostilities, if it numbers 300 men, it is composed of usually about six generals, twenty-four men with rifles that shoot around the corners, and the rest small boys armed with an odd assortment of knives and machetes. When a campaign fails it is usually because of sore feet.

Interesting comparisons, showing the extent of the employment of girls and women in private manufacturing establishments in the District of Columbia, just made public by the Census Bureau, indicate that females hold 20 per cent of all salaried positions; women constitute about 27 per cent of all the clerks and stenographers; that they number but 11 per cent of all the wage-earners, and that there were but two girls under 16 years of age, representing but 8 per cent of the total number of this age class.

One of the main objects of the census inquiries regarding manufacturing conditions in the District was to determine the number of persons employed on a given date by the various establishments. It was decided by Director Durand that December 15 would represent a day of normal or average employment, and, so far as practicable, the data were obtainable with reference to that date.

It was found that the total number of salaried officers and clerks on December 15, 1909, was composed of 1282 males, or 89 per cent, and 327 females, or 20 per cent.

There were 172 officers of corporations of whom 166, or 97 per cent, were males, and 6, or three per cent, were females.

The total number of superintendents and managers was 254, of which males formed 247, or 99 per cent, and females 7, or 1 per cent.

Among the clerks and stenographers there was less disparity between the proportions of males and females, the whole number employed being 1183, of whom the males constituted 869, or 73 per cent, and females 314, or 27 per cent.

The salaried employees were not classified with reference to age separation.

The total number of wage-earners employed on December 15 was 7895, and of this number there were 7017 male, or 89 per cent, and 878 females, or 11 per cent. Of the 7895 wage-earners, there were 7871, or 97 per cent, who were 16 years and more of age, and 24, or 3 per cent, under sixteen years of age. The male wage-earners, 16 years and more of age, 6995, formed 89 per cent of the total for this class; while the females numbered 876, or 11 per cent.

The grand total of the salaried employees and wage-earners was 9504. The salaried employees, 1699, formed only 17 per cent, and the wage-earners, 7895, or 83 per cent.

The grand total number of male salaried employees and wage-earners was 8299, the salaried males numbering 1282, or 15 per cent, and the wage-earning males, 7017, or 85 per cent.

The grand total number of female salaried employees and wage-earners was 1205, of which the female salaried employees formed 327, or 27 per cent, and the female wage-earners, 878, or 73 per cent.

There were three times as many women in the wage-earning class as there were in the salaried class in the District private manufacturing establishments.

FISHERMAN FOUND NOT GUILTY OF IT

Charge Was He Stretched Net
Across Mud Creek Near Alamitos Bay

Delegations of fishermen, representing the fishing grounds from Newport to the Malibu stretches, were in Judge Davis's court in Los Angeles last Friday, interested in the case being prosecuted against Dennis McGarvin. The defendant, a sunburned, grizzled puller of set lines, so it is charged, stretched a net across Mud Creek, near Alamitos Bay, January 14 last, in violation of the fishing laws. Many Japanese were present at the hearing. McGarvin denied that he had stretched his net more than a third of the way across the mouth of the stream. On motion of the district attorney two other counts against McGarvin were dismissed. When the jury reported, acquitting the prisoner, a number of his friends gathered about him and formed a triumphal procession to the street.

ing the Week

Orange News: The Orange County Schoolmasters' Club will meet here for its annual banquet, some time in the week, the exact date not yet being announced. It had been set for Saturday evening, but owing to the fact that the Junior reception is set for that evening, it is thought that this date will be changed.

Mrs. Earl Reeves entertained the members of the Antediluvian Club at her pretty home on West Chapman avenue yesterday afternoon in a most delightful manner. The parlors were decorated with red carnations, and Easter lilies and white jasmine were artistically arranged in the dining-room. Refreshments of brick ice cream and delicious cakes were served. Those not members of the Club who enjoyed the afternoon were Mesdames C. S. Spencer, F. Pruitt, P. Epperly, M. Reeves, J. H. Reeves, Marion Buszek, D. Wilkinson, and Misses Mabel and Iva Reeves. Nine babies were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nuffer of Whittier are spending a few days at the guests of Mrs. Nuffer's sister, Mrs. Amella Salisbury.

The East Washington Avenue Embroidery Club enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon Friday, when they met at the home of Mrs. Masters on North Shaffer street. A two-course luncheon of sandwiches and cocoa, berries, ice cream and cake were served. Those present were Mesdames Gregg, Wiley, Newman, Whollan, Waechter, Doesch, Masters and the Misses Paine, Edna Masters and Bess Masters.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Whatever charges of inactivity may be laid at the doors of the leaders of the two factions which have been struggling—or supposed to have been struggling—for the control of Nicaragua, the same cannot be said for their agents in the United States.

Some time ago dispatches to the State Department conveyed the momentous news that the forces of Madriz were within twenty miles of Bluefields, the citadel of the revolutionists under Estrada. A bloody battle was expected at any moment. Twelve days later the news was flashed over the wire from Consul Moffat that the Madriz army was within ten miles of Bluefields, and a battle was expected any moment. It took twelve days to advance ten miles—a very good rate of progress, it seems, in Central American revolutionary warfare.

But while the two armies, so-called, were dashing madly into the fray the two agents at Washington have been having a campaign of their own which makes the warfare down there look puerile by comparison. Dr. Salvador Castriello, agent of the revolution, has slain several armies, invaded Managua and all but had the country in his back pocket. And Senor Don Luis Corea, likewise, not to be outdone, has all but crushed the remnant of revolutionary forces.

"The Blood Is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgment are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Foul, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It enriches and purifies the blood, thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by inclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

MORE FARCE-LAW

Fresno Republican: The conviction that our system of criminal jurisprudence is a roaring joke and a howling disgrace has at last reached even the profession—the intelligent part of it, that is. The small fry are still convinced that since this system is the only thing they know, there is therefore nothing else to know. But President Taft, who is certainly a good lawyer, characterizes the whole procedure as a "disgrace to civilization." The New York Bar Association characterizes it as "a hundred years behind the times;" the San Francisco Bar Association committee recommends as radical reforms as the constitution will permit; every professional writer and student of jurisprudence denounces the common practices as not merely bad sense, but bad law; and the laity regard the whole thing with a contempt against which no judicial system could long survive.

One of the latest cases to call forth widespread comment is the reversal of the conviction of Jackson Hatch for embezzlement. Hatch abstracted some $40,000 from the trust funds of an estate in his charge. He took the money in various sums, at various times, and finally when restitution of the entire sum was demanded, failed to make good any part of it. These facts were proved and he was convicted. But the Court of Appeals held that each misappropriation constituted a separate act; that he should have been indicted for some single item; that demand for restitution should have been separately made for that particular sum, and that he should have been tried on that item alone. As every embezzler could make good any one day's peculations, and as proof could usually not be made of the separate misuse of any particular dollar, this decision practically makes embezzlement safe and conviction impossible. Also it turns loose on an absurd quibble a man who was proved guilty of the exact crime charged, expressly on the ground that he was so proved guilty.

On the same day the court handed down another decision quite as ridiculous, though it has not attracted so much comment. A prisoner was convicted of a crime which he did not take the stand to deny. It was his legal right to refrain from testifying, and his counsel suggested to the court an instruction stating that right, in language formulated by himself. The court, preferred, instead, to instruct the jury as to the law on this point by reading to them the exact language of the code. On this ground the case is reversed. Because a judge read to the jury the exact law, and all of the law, in the exact language of the law, he committed "error." And since the judge committed error, a convicted criminal, of whose actual guilt no doubt is raised, is given another trial.

If these were happenings of another land or another age, we would refuse to comprehend how an enlightened people could have tolerated them. But because they are our own, and we are used to them, we stand them. There is no other excuse.

WHAT HE STANDS FOR

Yes, Johnson is for the election of United States senators by popular vote, he stands for a non-partisan judiciary in order to take the selection of our judges out of politics and is for every other reform that can be called "safe and sane," but none of these things can be expected until the people of the state shall have wrenched the reins of government from the hands of the railroad machine. Just so long as this machine holds the power, just that long must we wait for these things. Therefore he sounds but one note: that of political emancipation. This is the condition precedent—the reform of reforms upon which all other reforms must wait. Until this is done nothing else can be accomplished. In other words, to be a success, reform must be in the hands of its friends. Our direct primary is an illustration. It was forced through by its friends, but there were not enough of them to keep the dirty hands of the machine away from it. Its mark was left on it in the shape of a district, instead of a statewide vote on United States senator. If the machine is successful at the August primary the direct primary will either be repealed or rendered harmless to the machine. Therefore the first thing to do is to smash the machine by reinvesting the people of the state with the functions of government.

That Illinois investigation is getting worse and worse. Another "jackpot" than the senatorial one has now been uncovered, it being the one that was consecrated to the defeat of the fish and the game bill. There was one in the furniture department and one in the saloon department and probably in all the departments, but it is to be hoped that no more will be uncovered just yet—the smell is getting too thick.

The Political Watchtower

Alden Anderson, a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, is going to visit Orange county within a few days. He will make the fourth Republican candidate for that office who has held forth the glad hand locally. Johnson, Stanton and Curry have come and gone. Johnson is coming again. Whether or not any of the other candidates are to make a second or third appearance remains to be seen.

The general opinion here seems to be that Anderson can cut but little figure in the Orange county vote. So far nothing has been gleaned by which it may be said that he has a lieutenant in this county. What kind of a showing can he possibly make against Johnson?

S. T. Rutherford, for twenty-two years a resident of this portion of Orange county, announces that he is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for justice of the peace of Santa Ana township. Mr. Rutherford's friends are confident that he will secure the nomination without any opposition. He is well known in the township, and he will receive the ardent support of his many friends, who declare that he is well fitted for the position he seeks to fill, that he has a level head and is given to a square deal.

Anaheim Plain Dealer: This appeal to high heaven, taken from the World-Herald, of Omaha, Nebraska, is timely. We trust our friends, Head and Lacy, will cut it out and paste it in their prayer books against the coming of the time in the campaign when it is usual for candidates to address their constituency and give reason for the faith that is in them.

Thus reads the prayer:
"O Lord, now that everything is coming our way, purge every Democratic soul of hot air and vainglory and insert large installments of common sense in every Democratic cranium; and, oh, remember, Lord, our proneness to make fools of ourselves just when we have the world by the tail and a downhill pull, and see that we don't get in bad this time."

Not only should each Democratic aspirant for office in this state paste the above in his prayer book, but he should go about in the light of the moon among fellow Democrats and spread the gospel taught and prayed for by the Omaha prophet.

HIS OWN MEDICINE.

The Dose That Was Handed to the Persistent Agent.

He was a sewing machine agent of the most aggressive type. For twenty minutes the lady of the house had been awaiting an opportunity to say that she already possessed one.

At last he paused, only long enough, however, to thrust a card into the lady's hand.

The bit of pasteboard was certainly a novelty.

"My name is Sellem," it read, "of the firm of Blank & Co., sewing machine manufacturers, and I intend to prove to you that it is madness to defer purchasing one of our unequalled machines."

After a long description of the machine came the following:

"You may plead that you are unable to work a machine. I will remove that objection in fifteen minutes or in three lessons. Will call next Wednesday."

When the agent called again a six foot man opened the door and blandly remarked:

"You're the sewing machine man, I suppose?"

"Yes; I called last week, and"—

"Yes, I know," interrupted the big man. "You don't know me, I suppose. My name's Bury of Bury & Keepem, undertakers, and I intend to prove to you that it is madness to defer purchasing one of our unequalled coffins."

The agent began to edge away.

"You may plead that you are scarcely qualified for a coffin," the big man went on. "I will remove that objection in ten seconds."

But the agent simply tore from the house.—London Tit-Bits.

Hints on First Aid to Everybody on All Occasions.

When a man rushes into your office hurriedly and says:

"By jingo, Dawson, I hate to speak of it, but I need $500 like the very old dickens today!"

Answer—"What a singular coincidence, Binks! I do too!"

When the lovely young maiden at the seaside to whom you have been paying court all summer shakes her head violently and says:

"No, Mr. Blithers; I cannot imagine any circumstances under which I could be induced to marry you."

Answer—"Thanks, Miss Jones. This is a great relief. I was afraid you had misconstrued my attentions and, of course, desired to live up to my implied obligations."

When you run face to face with your tailor upon the street and he turns a cold, beady eye upon you and says:

"Excuse me, Mr. Bump, but what have you to say about my little bill?"

Answer—"I don't think I have met your little bill, Mr. Snipperton. Indeed, I didn't know you had any children at all."

While he is recovering from this jump into a taxi and proceed to break the speed laws.—Carlyle Smith in Harper's Weekly.

Relative Strength of Arms.

As a result of some very interesting experiments made at Washington with a view to determine the relative strength of right and left limbs it has been ascertained that over 50 per cent of the men examined had the right arm stronger than the left, 16.40 per cent had the arms of equal length and strength, and 32.70 per cent had the left arm stronger than the right. Of women 46.90 per cent had the right arm stronger than the left, and 24.50 per cent had the left stronger than the right. In order to arrive at the average length of limbs fifty skeletons were measured, twenty-five of each sex. Of these twenty-three had the right arm and left leg longer, six the left arm and right leg, while in seventeen cases all the members were more or less equal in length.—Exchange.

Disadvantages of Poverty.

"We're goin' to move again in a month or two," said the little girl on the back porch. "We move into a new house every year."

"We don't," said the little girl in the adjoining yard. "My papa owns this house."

"And you don't never move into any other one?"

"No."

"My, my! It must be awful to be as poor as that!"—Chicago Tribune.

A Reliable Plan.

"Whenever I don't like a man very well," remarked the cynical person, "I give him a tip on the races. I don't care how much it loses for him."

"But suppose it wins."

"Then he's unhappy because he didn't bet more."

"And if he doesn't bet at all?"

"I keep on giving tips until one does win, and then he feels as if he had missed the chance of his life."—Washington Star.

His Little Joke.

Percy—I—aw—wrestled foh an hour with me scarf this morning. Algernon—Which won the victory, dear boy, you or the scarf? Percy—Neither. Cawn't you see the match resulted in a tie? Haw, haw!—Chicago News.

OUTLOOK FOR YEAR'S ORANGE CROP GOOD

Redlands Holding Back on Valencias Waiting for Them to Color

REDLANDS, June 6.—The outlook for the orange industry next season is pleasing the growers and packers of the Redlands district. The trees are yet full of small fruit, the hot weather of this week having apparently caused no injury. Naturally much of the fruit must fall during the June "drop," but it is believed that even with this fruit off, the crop will be better than an average one. The north side of the trees carries the burden of the fruit this year and this is always favorable to a large crop, as hot weather does not cause it to drop.

Navel shipments are all finished in the Redlands district and some of the packers have cleaned out on St. Michaels, seedlings, bloods and sweets and will start Valencias next week. The majority will hold back on Valencias a few weeks, however, in the hope that they will color better. As yet the green appearance is against them. The past week 129 cars were shipped, making the season's total 3144 cars, 600 cars behind last year.

Miss Una Fowler, who has been teaching the past two years at Hollywood Heights school was the honored guest at the Scribblers reunion Saturday evening. Miss Leslie Roberts came down from her school work at Cummock to be hostess to the club.

After assembling at the Roberts home on "G" street and enjoying reminiscence conversation for a time, the party adjourned to the Dragon balcony to partake of a delicious supper.

The tables were prettily trimmed in pink carnations and ferns and lighted by candelabra shaded with pink. Covers were laid for nine. At the conclusion Miss Fowler was presented with a diary to be used while on her European journey this summer. After well wishes for Miss Fowler the jolly party adjourned.

Woods Full

A Fourth of July crowd was in the picnic grounds Saturday. Fun and frolic on the part of all made the day a memorable one for those fortunate enough to be there. The weather was ideal and Episcopalians, Presbyterians, Methodists and everybody mingled together until an observer could not tell "who was who."

In an exciting baseball game between the Presbyterians and United Presbyterians of this city the United Presbyterians were the winners.

Talk of Beet Dump

Artesia News: There is some talk of the ranchers in this vicinity going in together and building a beet dump here. About 7500 tons of beets were shoveled onto cars at this station last year and ten cents per ton was paid for the work. This would just about have paid for a beet dump. If about twenty-five beet raisers would combine and build a dump it would pay dividends after the first two years.

PROHIBITION PARTY'S COLUMN

COPY FURNISHED AND EDITED BY AMOS WRIGHT OF PLACENTIA

OUR MOTTO—"Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."—Prov. 14:34.
OUR OBJECT—The Complete Annihilation of the liquor traffic.

The Prohibition party is not a temperance society. It does not deal primarily, if at all, with man's habits, but with his vote. It does not stand for the foolishness of talking up schemes for dealing with the phenomena of drunkenness. It stands flat-footed and squarely for the destruction of the traffic that makes drunkenness possible with its hellish brood of crimes. It believes that history and experience and observation all demonstrate the fact that the logic, the philosophy, the common sense of the whole liquor problem is summed up in one sentence: Remove the cause and the effects will cease.

The Prohibition party is not a religious society; neither is it an ethical club, neither is it a Puritanical porous plaster. Its chief concern is not how a man prays, but how he votes. It declares that a man who never enters the church door, the man who can not utter the first sentence of a church creed, who gets drunk 364 days in the year, but votes straight the Prohibition ticket on election day, is a better Prohibitionist than the man who knows all the shibboleths of orthodox theology and never tastes alcoholic liquor, who prays for temperance 364 days and votes for a license party on election day.

The Prohibition party is not simply a law and order society. The Prohibition party believes that it is the business of the various officers of the municipality, the state and the nation to enforce the laws, and every society that exists to do the work of law enforcement for which public officials are elected and paid weakens the government. The Prohibition party seeks to elect men who will do their duty as they promise to do when they are elected and when they take the oath of office.

The Prohibition party is not a balance of power crowd. What we want is power—the Democrats can have the balance.

The Prohibition party is not a one-party party. Nearly every bit of progressive, practical politics any of the parties have ever put into their platforms they stole bodily from the Prohibition party.

And never in the history of the Prohibition movement, and never in the history of this great nation, was there so much need of the Prohibition as at the present time. Since 1869, when the Prohibition party was first organized, there never has been any need of apology for its existence. The wisdom of that action, and the wisdom of that brave minority of citizens who have supported the Prohibition party, keeping it alive through all these years, is strikingly apparent today. Every day's experience all over these United States confirms the correctness of our position that national Prohibition of the legalized liquor traffic, with a party in power absolutely committed to its enforcement, is the only way by which this vicious cancer, the legalized liquor traffic, can be successfully removed from the body politic.

As never before we must become a real factor in the nation's politics. Today opportunity with outstretched hands and yearning desire is before us and it will be little short of criminal if we fail to measure up to its demands. In this day of the nation's need of a party to whose creed righteous men can subscribe, and for whose principles patriots can vote, we must make the air vibrate with our claims upon the moral and God fearing citizenship of America. "No compromise and no retract" must be our slogan. We must fling our banner to the breeze; we must adopt our platform with its dominant, dogmatic demands, we must nominate our candidates, we must agitate the public conscience, we must, like the prophets of God, reprove the whisky party voter, educate the political moral sense, stand four-square for God in government and death and damnation to the liquor license revenue system, and above all things else we must not place the leadership of our party in the hands of untitled men.

We can rejoice that some men of national fame are beginning to look our way, and we can be thankful for every little step they take toward the path of real prohibition as we understand it, but we must not allow the glitter and glare of their popularity to jeopardize our great movement by eulogizing them as leaders or placing the banner of our party in the hands of men who are not yet out of the kindergarten class of the Prohibition school.

All this talk about Bryan or Hanley or Folk leading our party, in the present position they take, is treason to our party interest and an insult to those of us who years ago graduated in this work. Let Mr. Bryan burn his bridges behind him. Let him announce himself publicly as altogether done with the whisky Democratic party. Let him publicly accept the position which for forty years we have maintained.

Then, and not till then, ought any Prohibition party man to call him a Prohibitionist, much less talk of presenting him with leadership, and this applies equally to Hanley and Folk and all the rest. We are anxious for them to come, and gladly open the doors for them to enter, but until they do enter they are not of us, and whatever else happens between now and the national Prohibition convention of 1912 will not nominate for its presidential candidate any man who has not fully and unequivocally committed himself to our principle and our policy. Let us be true to the past history we have made, not because it is history, but because it is right.

I wish this fact and the responsibility of withholding the vote of every Prohibitionist from candidates of every grade in the old party could be burned into the conscience of every Prohibitionist in your state. This everlasting consent of our party men to refrain from nominating a Prohibition party ticket to please the Democrats and the Republicans, good-man-in-office nonsense, is the curse of our party progress.

We must be loyal. Loyalty is a quality which impels one to do his duty, his full duty, to the cause he believes in, and to the principles for which the cause stands. Loyalty is a larger thing than sentiment. If sentiment was all there was to it, if nothing else was necessary, thousands could count themselves intensely loyal, but loyalty is not so easy as that. Loyalty is not merely shouting, it is service. Loyalty is not merely praying, it is paying, too. Loyalty is not simply knowledge, it is strength and courage, too. Loyalty is a quality which never flinches at opposition, never falters in the face of discouragement, never makes terms with the enemy, never owns defeat, and never quits, and there never was a time when such a loyalty was needed as now.

—Under the state law a new registration of voters has to be made every even numbered year.

All voters must register prior to July 27th, 1910, and must have declared the political party with which they intend to affiliate (as provided in Sec. 1366 a, Political Code), who desire to vote at the Primary Election to be held August 16th, 1910.

If you do not so register and so state your party affiliation you cannot vote at this primary election at which all State and County Officers will be nominated.

SAMUEL BOHN GETS COURT JUDGMENTS

Suits of Cousin Against Cousin
Decided in Favor of Plaintiff

Judgement has been entered in the superior court in two cases in favor of Samuel Bohn and against John L. Bohn, a cousin of Samuel. In one case judgment was for $2500, with $175 damage and $22 costs, and in the other $1400, with $200 damages and $32 costs.

Samuel Bohn sued John L., alleging that John L. kept possession of two herds of dairy stock, one at Chino and one at Clearwater. These herds were under lease from Samuel to John L., but when the lease ran out the latter refused to give up possession. Samuel sued for the worth of the herds. Williams & Rutan were attorneys for the plaintiffs.

T HAS RECOMMENDED TWO MAIN HIGHWAYS

Imperial County Takes Another Step Forward in Building Good Roads

EL CENTRO, June 5.—The Imperial County Highway Commission will submit its report to the supervisors tomorrow, recommending the construction of a north and south highway from Brawley to Calexico, and an east and west road from Holtville to Mountain Springs, in both cases by the most direct route. The Highway Commission delayed making its report for the purpose of obtaining terms for transportation of road making material from the gravel pits west of New River. The commission has now received assurance on that line, and it is said the report will show that road material may be delivered at any point on the railroad in Imperial Valley for 60 cents per ton, and that the San Diego and Arizona's eastern section, now being extended from En Centro, will be continued across New River to the gravel pits if the contract for hauling the material is assured.

It is estimated that the highways to be recommended will cost about $475,000 and that the commission will advise a bond issue to that amount.

DONT PAY TWICE FOR THE SAME ROOF.

Iron, tin and most prepared roofings are really never paid for, because they need painting or coating every year or two. If you add to the cost of these roofings the cost of painting during the number of years in service, you will readily understand why

J-M ASBESTOS ROOFING—which needs no coating—is the "cheapest-per-year" Roofing. It will not rot or rust, is permanently durable and resists fire. No acids, chemical fumes, gases, heat or cold can affect it. Costs less than slate, iron or shingles. Can be applied by anyone. Ask for samples and prices.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Cantaloup shipments were a little heavy yesterday morning and a decline of 25 cents per crate was made by the wholesale houses. The melons were good and solid and the demand was rather brisk. They will probably be coming in in still larger quantities next week, and by next Thursday or Friday should be considerably cheaper. Sweetwater grapes were a little more in evidence on the street and sold at a reduction of half a dollar from previous quotations.

The market on green beans has gone all to pieces and they could be bought at almost any price. A few sold as high as 3 cents a pound but most of the stock was disposed of at from 1 to 1½ cents, and even at that they did not create any demand to speak of.

The quality of asparagus on the market yesterday was very poor and consequently it did not move very fast. Apricot prices remained unchanged, and all that arrived were in demand. Nearly all were sold on the trains. The cherry market was unchanged both in prices and movement.

Arrivals of eggs were 364 cases. The market was firm, the most demand being for local case counts. An effort was made to sell a quantity at a cent above quotations, but no one was willing to pay that much.

The butter market was rather slow, and there was little trading. Cooking butter was offered at 25 cents, but was not taken at that price. Receipts were 24,345 pounds.

Cheese arrivals were 4641 pounds. Northern fresh, eastern twins, longhorns and daisy and limberger, all offered at a small margin under quotations, but the only calls were for longhorns, daisy and limberger.

Potatoes continued weak with prices the same. Lumpers were placed on the market at $1, but were not much in demand. Receipts in spuds were 416 sacks.

Onion arrivals were 21 sacks, and beans 12 sacks. Both of the markets were quiet and unchanged.

There was but little change in the berry market. Strawberries were a little stronger and moved in fairly good shape. Sweet corn was a little more in evidence and sold well at $1.15 per box of about four dozen ears.

All varieties of fish were scarce early in the morning, but late shipments came in and everyone was supplied.

COUNTY ASSESSOR W. M. SCOTT MAKES STATEMENT TO PUBLIC

County Assessor W. M. Scott, who is a candidate for re-nomination on the Republican ticket, has been made for some time the target of some very severe allegations by A. I. Stewart, also a candidate for the Republican nomination for assessor. Mr. Scott has felt impelled to say something to put the public right in this matter and to a Register reporter he said this morning:

"It is not my custom or desire to engage in newspaper controversy, but recently I have been made the subject of certain insinuations by a person who aspires to the office, which I now hold, and which, while aimed at me, reflect equally on the Board of Supervisors. This for the reason, that while I make the assessment, when my work is completed, the rolls are turned over to the Supervisors, who sit as a Board of Equalization, and after being accepted by them, the valuations really stand as their own, and they are held responsible for the same by the State Board of Equalization. In justice to the supervisors, as well as myself, I feel that the facts in the case, should be put before the people.

"My opponent referred to above has circulated a circular asserting that he is in favor of an equitable assessment, and asks if there is any reason why the big fellows should get off easier than the little fellows."

"This is manifestly an insinuation that the big tax payers have been favored in my assessments. In fact, the whole circular is made up of insinuations. Do you consider that a fair way of making a campaign? As a matter of fact, I can easily show that the large holdings in this county are bearing a larger proportion of the taxes than ever before. In the last two years I have raised the valuations of the county nearly $4,000,000. The small tax payers, those who have little ranches or modest personal property, know that their assessment has not been materially raised except by the 50 per cent increase made by the State Board, and then the supervisors reduced the rate almost in proportion to the raise made by the State Board. Of course taxes were increased more in certain locations, that is in school districts, where high schools have been established and school buildings erected, or in certain cities where more money was needed to make the necessary improvements.

"Therefore, the $4,000,000 raise in the valuations of the county, which I made, have been chiefly on the property of the 'big fellows,' and it should be remembered that in addition, they also had the 50 per cent increase by the State Board.

"I am reliably informed that my opponent has been making a statement that I have not assessed the oil wells of the county at over $100.00 each. Now as to the facts of the case, in 1906, the oil wells of the county were assessed by my predecessor at $100 each, the total for that year being $9000. In making my 1907 assessment, I was compelled largely to take the valuations of my predecessor in making the assessment, as all the property books have to be made up once in four years, and I had no opportunity to regrade the county, and I placed the oil wells at his figures, having assessment upon them for $12,000. In 1908 and 1909 these values were greatly increased and last year my total assessment on the wells alone, was $108,500. Many of these wells were assessed at $5000 each. The assessment of these wells will be higher this year.

"One of Mr. Stewart's favorite knocks is to say that the P. E. railroad is assessed away up per mile in Los Angeles county, but that the assessment drops away down per mile as soon as the road crosses the Orange county line. Well, that is substantially true, but it gives the same false impression that Mr. Stewart's other statements give. People don't stop to think that the Los Angeles county assessment of the P. E. is so much per mile for the entire mileage in Los Angeles county, including the immensely valuable mileage and terminal facilities in the cities of Los Angeles, Pasadena, Long Beach, etc. The average cost and earnings of the P. E. in Los Angeles county is many times as much as in this county. Over much of the Los Angeles county mileage a car runs every minute of the day, and over all of the balance the average is about one every ten minutes; while in this county the cars run only every forty-five minutes. It is very hard to make an absolutely just and equitable assessment, and I do not claim to be infallible.

"However, it is much harder to make an assessment, which will be satisfactory to the people, when one is confronted by a disturbing element, stirring dissatisfaction among the people by telling each of them they are paying more than their proportion of taxes, and yet from the lack of complaints I am satisfied that the people of the county generally, are satisfied with my work, with the exception of this man whose self interest is apparent. You ask if this man is a heavy taxpayer, and in answer will say that his name appeared on the tax roll for the first time in 1909, when he was assessed for personal property valued at $325.00; he had an exemption of $100.00, leaving a balance of $225.00 for assessment. He has no record interest in any land in Orange county. The people of this county are fair-minded; I have lived in this county for twenty-four years and have enjoyed their confidence, which no one appreciates more than myself, and in justice to myself and the supervisors, who sit as a Board of Equalization and pass upon my valuations, I would be glad to have any appointed committee or individual come in and look at the books, which are always open to the public, and judge for themselves if it is the kind of work this gentleman, through his insinuations, would have the public believe it is.

"I will state farther that the State Board of Equalization appointed a committee of five, to place the valuations upon over 200 pieces of property, selected by the State Board of Equalization. This committee was composed of D. H. Thomas, G. O. Minter, John Cubbon, Frank Ey and C. S. Forgy. These gentlemen placed their valuations upon all this property, then asked me what per cent I was assessing upon, and I told them 40 per cent. They then took 40 per cent of their valuations, and in the aggregate of all this property, there was only a difference between us of 1 per cent. I understand this gentleman puts it very kindly, saying that Scott is not to blame for his bungling work, but simply he does not know any better.

"Isn't that kind, and isn't it strange that only this man, through his campaign eye glasses, has been able to discover all these gross discrepancies in making up an equitable assessment for the people of Orange county?"

"As this gentleman expects to hold meetings of citizens in the furtherance of his campaign, I would suggest to his hearers that they jot down the figures used by him in his representations, and then come into my office and see if the figures as given by him are correct. My books are always open."
